

From Hartford:

Expectedly so, we've had an influx in questions surrounding Hartford's coverage response to COVID-19.

To keep you apprised of The Hartford's actions during this time, we intend to communicate regularly – through emails like this as well as other virtual channels.

The Hartford created a Coronavirus Resource page with the link below and this is specific to small business. The Link will take you to resources for BI or WC coverage's along with other information that might be helpful. You will see information updated here along with resource materials that can help your conversations with our small business owners.

While we navigate these uncharted waters, I encourage you to have faith in the strength of our humanity, The Hartford and the support of your clients.
