| a Berkley Company

Preferred is here to help you and your clients while quarantined.

Due to recent events, many people are working remotely for the first time. How can you and your clients stay productive, happy, and healthy while quarantined? Our latest video shares best practices for times like these.

Our business is fully operational and going strong while Shelter-In-Place orders are in effect.

If you have any questions, never hesitate to get in touch.

Please contact me if you have any questions at all.
